Displaying outstanding maturity and composure, she produced a flawless performance full of attacking verve and control, winning 11-6, 11-4, 11-7 to secure her place in the semi-finals.

Evans came runner-up in his initial group. Having lost his first match to a strong England player he bounced back winning all other matches, then beating Jersey's Jonty Porter in the last 16, who had beaten him in the team event 3-1 the previous day. He then met Ireland's number 2 Andrew Lowe who was a tricky pimpled bat player who he beat 3-0. In the Semi Final Luke meet England number 1 Saisurya Kumar. The England junior quickly opened up a two-set lead. From this point, Evans changed his tactics, looping well off both wings to trouble his opponent, claiming the next two games to set up a decider which he eventually lost 11 – 8.

Emil Friedrich (Athletics)

Emil started 2025 in fantastic form – striking gold immediately at the Southern Indoor Championships in the 300m before repeating the trick at national level a few weeks later, becoming England U15 Champion. He then won another national title in the Indoor Pentathlon. Outdoors he showed his versatility in winning the 800m national title and taking silver at the prestigious English Schools Championships in the 300m. He also scooped several U15 Island Records across a number of events.

Barnaby Groves (Table Tennis)

15-year old Barney Groves rewrote Guernsey's table tennis history books in 2025.

He enjoyed an incredible run to a maiden Senior Open title at the Guernsey Table Tennis Association centre in October, in a Senior Group event.

Groves achieved this exceptional feat from the position of being unseeded, something which is not thought to have happened before and certainly not over the course of the past 25 years.

The difficulty in winning these blue riband Senior open tournaments cannot be denied, with no player outside of the leading half a dozen or so players having picked up titles before.

Impressive victories followed consecutively for the youngster in the latter stages of the competition, with a number coming against top Island players that he had not defeated before and it culminated with a tense 5 set triumph over the defending champion, Joshua Stacey.

Darcey Hodgson (Athletics)

17-year-old Darcey Hodgson had another outstanding year in the 800m. The young Sarnian took the Island Games title to upgrade her silver from 2023. Darcey also broke the Guernsey U20 and U23 records for the 400m hurdles in taking silver in Orkney in her first year in the event. The time of 63.27sec places her second on the senior all-time list behind Jay Peet. To top off her season, Darcey also snatched the Senior Island 600m record in a time of 1:34.53sec

Alex Hutchinson (Climbing)

Alex competed in The Youth Climbing Series 2025 in the London south east south region. He consistently competed well in a very tough region, always coming in the top 8 and finishing 4th and 6th on two occasions and coming 6th overall. He also competed in the England Climbing trials and a top 15 finish in lead Climbing (high walls and clipping in) secured him a place in the England foundation squad. One of the routes was on an 18m wall which makes his result all the more amazing, as the highest wall we have in Guernsey is only 7m high. We look forward to seeing how he continues to improve during 2026.

Chloe Ingrouille (Football)

Chloe has had an outstanding year since turning 16, representing Guernsey in the Women's Muratti win, and playing with GFC Women in the Southern Region Women's League before being signed by Plymouth Argyle and making appearances for both the U18 and Women's teams.

Zach joined the National Youth Ranks for the first time this year, securing his first top ten finish at Kirroughtree in Scotland. In addition, Zach continues to dominate in the Southern MTB Series securing one win and other podium places.

This achievement marks a significant milestone in his development as a competitive rider.

He also attended the Youth European Championships in Sweden, where he competed shoulder to shoulder with 263 other competitors from across Europe, further expanding his experience and skill set on an international stage.

Due to Zach's continued commitment to the sport, he was also identified as one of the top riders in the UK in his age category, with the potential to develop into a successful world-class athlete in the future. As a result, he is now part of Team GB's cycling Team (GBCT) and confirmed as an MTB - XC National School of Racing Foundation rider for 2025/2026. This prestigious program allocates only three spots in the UK, and from this cohort, a small number of riders will graduate onto the Great Britain Cycling Team Olympic Development Squad.

Notably Zach is the first rider in the Channel Islands to be offered this opportunity in the current format and should be congratulated on this achievement.

Zach's cumulative efforts throughout the season have led him to rank 11th nationally, demonstrating his consistent performance and commitment to improvement. Zach Smith's achievements in 2025 are a testament to his talent, hard work, and unwavering dedication to mountain biking. He serves as an inspiration to aspiring riders and is a proud ambassador for the sport in Guernsey.

Jessica Watson (Sailing)

Jess Watson's sailing year was both intensive and extensive. She competed at 5 National Events, a European Championship and was selected as one of the 9-strong British women's team for the U21 Woman's Championship.

She was the only female in the 4-strong Guernsey Team at the mixed gender/age Island Games. She narrowly missed out on an individual medal but helped to win Team Bronze.

She finished 2nd U19 girl at 2 National events and finished 3rd U19 girl at one other. At British Open and National Championship, she came away with a bronze medal for U19 girls.

At the end of 2025 Jess has climb to near the top of the British Youth ranking and is ranked 3rd U19 girl and 4th U21 female.

However, she still finds time to fit teaching sailing to beginners at the Guernsey Sailing Trust.

In the Medley relay, the Barracuda boys once again found themselves up against the Basingstoke Bluefins team as the team to beat. Moherndl swam a solid backstroke leg with 4 teams on even footings, Maiden then swam an impressive 50m breaststroke to take the team into second place 2 seconds behind the Winchester City Penguins, Robinson then took control of the relay with an outstanding 50m butterfly in a time of 30.18 taking the team 3 seconds clear of the field, allowing Bolton to easily finish the job to take a second relay gold.

The competition drew in teams from all around Europe and India.

The boys absolutely thrived in this experience and they won every single game in the group stages on day one, putting them through to the semifinals the next day. The weather was against them as it was treacherous rain on the Sunday, but they just got on with it! These lads worked so hard as a team and they won the semifinal placing them in final with a really strong opponent. The day started with the women's match where over 900 supporters came to watch, the first major event to be held at Victoria Park created a spectacular atmosphere with members of the School of Popular Music singing around the stadium. The women did not disappoint with an outstanding performance to entertain the crowd with the first game of the day

Once celebrations were finished for the women the stadium was cleared in preparation for the men's match. A corporate lunch was hosted on the grass training pitch in a wonderful marque and guests were designated seats to watch the game, the remainder of the stadium was filled resulting in the stadium reaching full capacity of 3,019 people. Guernsey Parkrun

The Guernsey parkrun volunteer team have been nominated 3 times before in this category and whilst other nominees and winners have come and gone, the local parkrun volunteer group continues to roll out weekly free 5k events on L'Ancresse Common at Pembroke. By the end of 2025 Guernsey parkrun will have notched up over 450 weekly events since inception in 2016, now even including Christmas Day, and is a fixture of the local scene. Every week now over 200 parkrunners and 20+ volunteers will be involved on the day and it's a core group of volunteers that make this event possible every week. It isn't simply about hosting a free running event, because sport is a gateway to promoting a culture of togetherness and wellbeing and that of volunteering and giving back to the community. This is core to the parkrun philosophy, and the parkrun volunteer group are to be commended for ensuring that an event like this has a long-term presence in Guernsey.

Guernsey Raiders (Channel Islands Rugby International Match)

Siam rivals became teammates in May when Guernsey and Jersey players joined forces to play the Sweden national team in an 'international' at Foote's Lane. The idea for an international match originated in the Guernsey Rugby Club boardroom as the committee looked for ways to raise funds in a 'fallow' year when they were not hosting the Siam and it turned into a big success as a four-figure crowd saw the CI win the inaugural Spring Insure Granite Trophy clash 66-28 on a night of entertaining rugby played out in a party atmosphere, described as 'very different to Siam, but absolutely fantastic,' by Anthony Armstrong who scored a hat-trick for the winners.

Karl Marshall (Guernsey Rally)

Whilst motorsport can often be referred to as Marmite (love it or hate it), Karl Marshall has been taking part in motorsport all of his life. A proud Guernsey man with a love of cars and one who has competed for many years in various racing events, with later years also concentrating more on organising and being a front man.

The Guernsey Rally has without doubt been his biggest challenge to date. To secure one of Guernsey's most complex and high profile events as this each year and organise it so professionally and safely, deserves recognition. Karl's knowledge and expertise of the Rally and other motorsport events which he's very much involved in, exceeds all capabilities and he does this tirelessly with modesty, encouragement, empathy and consideration towards our environment and a minority who perhaps don't share the same interest. The Guernsey Rally takes a whole year to plan and this man knows every step of that process to continue to make it so successful and keep it on the world wide rally map. His leadership and planning talent doesn't stop with the Guernsey Rally, previously as leader of one of the clubs for years, still helping with hillclimbs, karting, sandracing championships, car seafront events and anything else he can find time for.

Such a great achievement for someone who had a dream of a Rally in Guernsey which no one else thought was possible and has made it awesome, some might say even the biggest and best event Guernsey has.

Guernsey Island Games Sailing Team (Sailing)

The Guernsey Yacht Club Team comprising juniors Monty Desforges and Jessica Watson, who complemented adult sailors Darragh Lee and David Aslett, came away from the Island Games with a team bronze medal.

The team fielded two of the youngest participants in the competition both aged 17 competing in a mixed aged and mixed gender event. The competition comprised 10 races held over 5 arduous days with up to 4 hours on the water each day which tested both mental and physical resilience.

Unlike most sailing competitions, it was a collective team event whereas normally it is restricted to solo participation. This made tactical decision-making imperative so as not to materially disadvantage the overall results for the team.

In the final analysis Monty Desforges was only one point off an individual medal with Jess Watson 4 points away.

Guernsey Island Games Women's Triathlon Team

The Guernsey women achieved a three-peat of Island Games golds at Orkney 2025, backing up their wins at Guernsey 2023 and Gibraltar 2019. 18-year-old Hannah Kennedy led the way with a courageous performance for individual silver, while Games veteran and flag bearer Amy Critchlow cracked the top five. Chloe Truffitt completed the counting three in seventh. They finished nearly 13 minutes clear of team silver medallists Shetland and their strength in depth was apparent even beyond that - battling on through injury, Lindsay Sword had come home in eighth and within 90 seconds of teammate Chloe. The team also showed plenty of future promise: Hannah and Lindsay were in their first Games, although Hannah had competed as a swimmer before, Chloe only in her second.

Alison and Ian Merrien (Bowls)

Ali and Ian Merrien represented Guernsey at the World Bowls Indoor Championships in Aberdeen in April 2025. This event comprises of men's and ladies' singles and mixed pairs. Of the 32 pairs entries from the 32 countries which took part, Ali and Ian achieved a bronze medal with only the home country powerhouses of England, Wales and Scotland ranking in the same or higher position. This is an excellent example of a small team putting Guernsey on a world stage.

They won their regional group against Sevenoaks and KCS Wimbledon schools, qualifying as one of the top 8 teams nationally for the finals in Edgbaston. The players support each other and everyone is involved when they are training. They are supported by the coaches and it's great to see the players playing each week.

Guernsey Island Games Cycling Team (Cycling)

The story starts in Nov 2024 when the number of riders looking to represent Guernsey on the cycling at the 2025 Island Games had, for a number of reasons, dwindled to 6 from the anticipated team of 15. Things were not looking good.

So, out went an appeal to the members of the Guernsey Velo Club and beyond. Normal selection criteria were abandoned as it was vital to send as full a team as possible, if only to show our support for the Games and the cycling events. Medals and results were less important than sending a team of 15 riders.

Then came the emails and calls from riders showing interest in joining the team and by mid-December we had assembled a team of 14 strong riders, not quite a full team but we were happy with a team of 14. The team comprised a mixture of youth and experience, a couple of tri-athletes who were happy to join the cycling team after their event on day one of the games and few riders who thought they would never get to represent Guernsey at the Island Games....but now they were and they were not going to miss this opportunity.

Over the next few months preparations went at a pace with many of the new team members training like they had never done before. By the time the Games arrived he had a team of riders well prepared for the week of racing that lay ahead and all raring to go. We went to the Games not really expecting pick up many medals, if any at all. Then the medals started to be won, Gold, silver and bronze, both individual and team medals, nine in total, 3 Gold, 3 Silver and 3 Bronze. An amazing and very much unexpected set of results ensuring the Guernsey team finished 2nd in the cycling medal table, just behind Jersey! What a result, every rider performed above expectation, every rider had their greatest week of competition ever and every rider went home as happy as happy could be.

Team manager Gary Wallbridge commented that this was his 14th Island Games and managing this team, the journey they had been on over the last 8 months, the team spirit, their total joy in competing at the Games and the amazing set of results ranks up there with the best teams he had ever looked after. This team optimises what a team effort can really achieve, if unexpected, and would be a worthy winner of this award.

Guernsey Island Games Ladies Swim Team (Swimming)

The Guernsey Island Games Ladies Swim Team that competed in Orkney comprised of 10 swimmers and came home with no fewer than 22 medals between them; 8 gold, 8 silver and 6 bronze and in addition to the medals they set 3 Games records and 10 Island records. This was a massive team effort with all the swimmers having very busy schedules over a 4-day period with heats taking place in the morning and finals swim in the evening.

The highlight of each day was undoubtedly the team relays; The Guernsey ladies showed the other islands that they were a force to be reckoned with! In the 4 x 100m medley relay the girls stormed to gold in a Games record breaking time that was 5 seconds ahead of their second-place rivals the Faroe Islands and also taking a massive 4 seconds off the current Games record. The 4 x 100m Freestyle Relay was to produce an even stronger performance where the girls once again took gold in a new Games record time and Island record, breaking the previous games record by 2 seconds and this time touching 7 seconds ahead of second placed Faroe Islands.

A thoroughly outstanding team effort from a group of 10 hardworking and committed swimmers.

Guernsey Men's Inter-Insular Golf Team

For the second year in a row, Guernsey pulled off an incredible comeback from being whitewashed 5-0 in the opening foursomes session to end the inter-insular weekend by lifting the Challenge Trophy, only this time they did so on Jersey soil at the Grouville golf course where they had not tasted success since 1980. As holders, Guernsey needed to avoid defeat to retain the trophy and against all odds they acquired the necessary 10 points over the fourballs and singles sessions to bring it back with them at the end of what captain Steve Mahy called a 'surreal' weekend when all 10 Guernsey players contributed to the team's points tally.

Guernsey U16 Muratti Team (Football)

The Island U16 football team won the U16 Muratti for the first time since 2017, and winning the first male Muratti for a Guernsey side at Springfield since before COVID. In the game, Guernsey went behind and showed brilliant resilience to take the game to extra time and go on to win. The team also went on two trips to prepare for this game where they also represented the Island brilliantly.

Guernsey Men's Muratti Team (Football)

Winning the 2025 Muratti after a long spell of Jersey retaining the trophy shows how the home of Guernsey Football has inspired the team to work hard and gain the valuable win for a double header Muratti Day with both the men and women winning.

Guernsey Women's Muratti Team (Football)

Sarnia Legacy (Cheerleading)

These incredible young ladies have represented Guernsey with pride this year, taking part in two cheerleading competitions that truly showcased their determination, resilience, and team spirit. Their journey began with a virtual competition in May, where they earned an impressive 3rd place in the Under-16 Level 2 division for Fusion Cheer Competitions.

Their next challenge came in July at a live competition in Blackpool, where they achieved an amazing 2nd place. But the story behind that success is what truly sets them apart. This week brought terrible weather—flights were cancelled, boats were fully booked, and travel seemed impossible. Half the team had already made it across to the UK, while the other half remained stuck in Guernsey with what felt like no way out.

They had two choices: accept defeat, or fight for the chance they had worked so hard for. And these girls were never going to take no for an answer.

With the support of their parents, they managed to secure foot-passenger spots on an already full boat. From there, they raced across the UK by foot, Uber, tram, train, through the London Underground, by coach—and even piggyback at times. Ten and a half hours of nonstop travel later, they finally arrived, where the rest of their team and parents welcomed them with open arms and huge cheers.

This weekend showed the very best of who they are. There were tears, tantrums, wrong turns, and moments of exhaustion—but these teenagers never gave up on each other. For some, it was their first time ever visiting the UK, yet they travelled halfway up the country in a single day, proving just how deep their love for their sport and their teammates truly runs.

They have spent an entire year training five hours a week, giving up late nights, birthday parties, and special occasions. Some even trained on their own birthdays. Their commitment to one another has shown what true team sport is all about.

When they returned home to Guernsey, they had a dream: to create a legacy for the future. “They’re just children,” we thought. But when you witness the passion and unity they share, you cannot ignore it. And so, with their drive and their parents’ support behind the scenes, Sarnia Legacy was born—created by these girls, for the next generation. They never imagined that more than 60 athletes would walk through the doors, inspired by them. That in itself is a testament to their impact.

These girls deserve this award for their unwavering determination and dedication to their sport. They have formed beautiful friendships that will last a lifetime, and one day, when they are old enough, they will become the committee of Sarnia Legacy—continuing the dream they started together.

Award No 7

Dave Dorey Memorial Trophy (coaching/development)

Men's Muratti Coaching Team (Football)

After a long drought of not winning the men's muratti for a number of years the coaches and managers pulled together a fantastic win at Victoria Park to bring the Muratti Vase back to Guernsey.

Sarnia Legacy (Cheerleading)

These incredible young ladies have represented Guernsey with pride this year, taking part in two cheerleading competitions that truly showcased their determination, resilience, and team spirit. Their journey began with a virtual competition in May, where they earned an impressive 3rd place in the Under-16 Level 2 division for Fusion Cheer Competitions.

Their next challenge came in July at a live competition in Blackpool, where they achieved an amazing 2nd place. But the story behind that success is what truly sets them apart. This week brought terrible weather—flights were cancelled, boats were fully booked, and travel seemed impossible. Half the team had already made it across to the UK, while the other half remained stuck in Guernsey with what felt like no way out.

They had two choices: accept defeat, or fight for the chance they had worked so hard for. And these girls were never going to take no for an answer.

With the support of their parents, they managed to secure foot-passenger spots on an already full boat. From there, they raced across the UK by foot, Uber, tram, train, through the London Underground, by coach—and even piggyback at times. Ten and a half hours of nonstop travel later, they finally arrived, where the rest of their team and parents welcomed them with open arms and huge cheers.

This weekend showed the very best of who they are. There were tears, tantrums, wrong turns, and moments of exhaustion—but these teenagers never gave up on each other. For some, it was their first time ever visiting the UK, yet they travelled halfway up the country in a single day, proving just how deep their love for their sport and their teammates truly runs.

There were so many “firsts”: first train ride, first time in the London Underground, first McDonald’s—and most importantly, their first time competing together on a competition mat away from home. They have spent an entire year training five hours a week, giving up late nights, birthday parties, and special occasions. Some even trained on their own birthdays. Their commitment to one another has shown what true team sport is all about.

When they returned home to Guernsey, they had a dream: to create a legacy for the future. “They’re just children,” we thought. But when you witness the passion and unity they share, you cannot ignore it. And so, with their drive and their parents’ support behind the scenes, Sarnia Legacy was born—created by these girls, for the next generation. They never imagined that more than 60 athletes would walk through the doors, inspired by them. That in itself is a testament to their impact.

These girls deserve this award for their unwavering determination and dedication to their sport. They have formed beautiful friendships that will last a lifetime, and one day, when they are old enough, they will become the committee of Sarnia Legacy—continuing the dream they started together.

Cayden Tardif (Football)

At the age of 18 he has contributed so much to the coaching world of youth football. He has helped so many young players progress. He spends hours coaching, analysing, planning. The highlight for me was him leading the under 16 Guernsey team to the muratti win in Jersey. The way he brought the team together and helped the players develop was incredible

Martin Watts (Squash)

2025 has been a great year for Guernsey's squash and racketball players and teams and the development has been brilliantly led by Martin Watts. Guernsey beat Jersey in the inter-insular a feat achieved by the development of the racketball teams which a few years ago barely recorded any wins. Martin's coaching and development of the junior squash players has seen some excellent results - 2 Hampshire county champions (Leo Carpenter at u15 and Arthur Leonard at u13) and 6 players performing well enough to be selected for south England team training with the chance of selection for the team. Bravo Martin!

Women's Muratti Coaching Team (Football)

The coaches of the women's team have given so much of their time to female football in Guernsey, not just for the women but also within the GFA Girls Academy. Winning both the 2024 and 2025 Women's Muratti shows the talent that they are nurturing and raising and they deserve to be champions for all their hard work and effort. This is just the beginning of something much bigger for female football in Guernsey.

Bridget has dedicated countless years to netball, giving her time, energy, and expertise to the sport she loves. 2025 has been a great year for Samuel. It started in February when Sam became the County Champion Boys 15 years old in the 100m and 200m breaststroke. He continued his year by attending South East Regionals while training and preparing for his first Island Games. Sam was one of the swimmers in the Guernsey team in Orkney and while not reaching any finals, he pushed himself to do his upmost.

Barnaby Groves (Table Tennis)

Amelia Hart (Athletics)

Amelia has been a committed sprinter throughout her teenage years but despite that, the 21 year old produced her best ever year in 2025, culminating in an Island Games bronze medal which seemed almost incomprehensible 12-18 months before. The Bath Spa student decided to take on a new event – the gruelling 400m long sprint – and continued to improve almost every race throughout the summer – landing the podium place in Orkney and then a PB of 57.08 back home shortly afterwards. She also took huge chunks of time off her PB's for her 'old events' the 100m & 200m

Robbie Hill-Tout (Tumbling)

This year Robbie was the first Guernsey gymnast to win a national medal (Bronze at the English Championships) and qualify for the British Championships where he ranked 5th in both the 10 year old boys category and under 13 boys category against the whole of the UK.

Lewis Marley (Golf)

After a strong finish to the 2024 season had seen Lewis Marley earn his Inter-Insular debut, he took his golf to the next level this year as he was crowned men's Island champion in May shortly before he reached his 20th birthday. He did so in sensational style, too, playing his best ever round in tough, blustery conditions at L'Ancresse during the morning session of the final against two-time former winner Tom Le Huray, as he carded six birdies to reach lunch 4 up and lay the foundation for his maiden Guernsey title, even though he admitted that he had gone into the championship with 'no real expectations'.

Craig Robert (Motorsport)

Experienced driver Craig Robert truly rose to the occasion of the biggest and best Guernsey Rally yet. His highest finish previously had come in 2022, when he was the top domestic driver, won the FWD2 (front-wheel drive) class and placed sixth overall, but in this year's expanded edition he and co-driver Chris Guille stepped it up considerably to take a close second behind the yet-unbeaten Ross Le Noa and Domonic Volante of Jersey. Now in a Ford Escort MK1, the home prospects made valuable time on the rainy Saturday morning and ultimately, after 28 demanding stages, finished within 20sec. of the Caesarean greats and their bigger-engined MK2. He later joined Guille to finish 10th overall and top all-Guernsey crew at the Jersey Rally.

This year Thomas has made huge steps in the world of international Grasstrack/Longtrack, 5th in the 250cc British Championship, wins at National events and very respectable top 6 at several international events across Europe, this is no mean feat considering this is Thomas's first year in Adult classes, when you consider Thomas is one of only 3 under 18 riders on a UK ACU licence riding at this level at international event with any success, this is a massive achievement, that goes well beyond his years.

That places her second only to all-time great Kylie Robilliard in the all-time list.

Zoe Gray (Archery)

Despite being one of Guernsey's most experienced and accomplished Island Games archers, that individual gold had long evaded Zoe Gray. That was until Orkney 2025, where she won the compound head-to-head knockout. It was Guernsey's first individual archery gold since Gotland 2017 and emulated the achievement of her uncle, Steve Yates, who was the island's last head-to-head champion with his triumph at the 2003 home Games. Gray's fifth Games had earlier included a silver in the WA 1440 compound – just losing out to the Faroes archer she was later to beat in the head-to-head final. The Guernsey star has also achieved multiple medals at the Hampshire County Championships.

Just a few weeks prior to the Championships in March 2025, Ali returned to bowls and went to exceptional lengths to be match fit for her first game against Wales, winning this 21-11. Her next opponent and the semi-final was Claire Anderson of Scotland who she beat 21-18.
